Re: NNSA Newsletter Volume 12(42): Some PMP bullets for reloading may be packaged incorrectly

PMP has noticed your posting regarding the mixed bullets in .30 calibre. We have received your member's email as well. We would like the opportunity to respond and request you publish this response on your website along with the complaint. We appreciate your concern for the safety of the public which led to you posting the warning.

PMP shares your concern regarding mixing of calibres or weights of bullets. This could have catastrophic and/or fatal results for rifles as well as shooters. Every measure is taken to ensure that mixing of bullets does not occur at PMP. We appreciate the complaint from your member and have investigated it.

The one bullet in the picture is indeed a PMP bullet. Judging from appearance, the other is most probably a Sierra Gameking.

It is not a bullet manufactured at PMP and is not stored at PMP. It is therefore impossible for this bullet to have been mixed with our bullets at PMP.

It is probable that your member's bullets were mixed during his loading process or were mixed at a gun shop. We are relieved that he discovered this before firing, as the consequences could have been severe.

Please do not hesitate to contact us for any assistance.

Thank you
